Then it defaults to this US Priced page, NB we don't use the work Tax, we call it GST here in NZ. Plus the $ values are different, much cheaper in the US but the exchange rate would render that about the same cost if I was about to use this, but I shouldn't have to because there is an NZ subscription page

If I search Arlo NZ subscriptions through google I find this page, note different pricing, NZ flag, etc. But when I try to sign up it asks me to log into my account, I do this then I'm back to the beginning with the US page.

This shouldn't happen.
